LISTEN SHERIFF HOSKINS!

Will You Give the Information Asked for Below?

H. T. White, colored, handed us the following, signed by himself, and asked us to publish the same. It is an open letter to Sheriff J. A. Hoskins, the present incumbent and republican candidate for re-election:
To Hon. J. A. Hoskins, Sheriff of Guilford County, N. C.

Dear Sir: The fatal die has been cast and your name has again gone before the people of the good county of Guilford for the highest office in the county. This office, financially, is very desirable to a hungry office-seeker, to say nothing of its social influence. So now, sheriff, as the day of election is drawing so nigh, and the army of opposition is thick and strong, as a citizen of the county who has always tried to do my political duty, I think I have a right to have a few very important queries satisfactorily answered, both for my benefit as well as many other good citizens of our county.

You will doubtless remember, dear sheriff, that early in March last an humble and unpretentious citizen of your town and county made application to you for the simple position of tax collector, but I am sorry to say that our beloved sheriff not only failed to recognize my application but had me to understand that he had placed all places under his administration so far as the colored members of his party were concerned, under the strict civil service rules, and gave me as a test of my efficiency a trial in spelling the word "Mississippi" and running right off.

I failed to spell the word, not because of ignorance of geography but because I always considered it nonsense to shake fodder after a runaway horse. I think I could have if he would have stood long enough to listen. But I guess our sheriff didn't care to listen.

In my communication to His Highness, I asked him if the office was under civil service rule and as he did not answer me then, it will perhaps be well for him to answer now, as many others are now asking this same question, and if he does not answer the office of sheriff of this county may go under civil service rules and then the day of "Retribution" of which I warned him at the time will truly have come and woe to the illustrious sheriff.

Our sheriff will please recall to mind the card of H. T. White of Oct. 15th, 1897. If it has been lost or forgotten I can refresh his mind. We are republicans of course, but we are acting on Longfellow's advice:

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle—
Be a hero in the strife.

Men who want our vote must remember us longer than up to election day. We have been tools in men's hands long enough to be used to elevate them to position and power, to then be forgotten till needed again. Yes, sir, Sheriff, that kind of business is becoming a thing of the past. Of this be you assured.

Is the office under civil service? I earnestly hope our dear sheriff will satisfactorily explain this matter so we can get it out of the way at once or it will no doubt be necessary to refer to this matter again, because the people are demanding an answer and must be answered.

For the present I remain your humble subject,
H. T. White.

FEDERAL COURT OPENS.

Judge Hamilton G. Ewart Is On the Bench.

Federal court opened in the county court house in this city this morning at 10 o'clock, his Honor Judge Hamilton G. Ewart on the bench. This is Judge Ewart's first court in the capacity of federal court judge and it is, perhaps, a little more awkward to him than it will be by and by.

His Honor's charge to the grand jury occupied twenty-five minutes and was read from manuscript. It may be more impressive when the judge learns it by heart so that he can tell it to the jury without the use of his manuscript. Though brief, it was quite thorough and covered the ground from the selling of a one-cent stamp below the regular price to operating a "moonshine" still in the woods.

The attendance upon this term of court is, perhaps, larger than the last term, yet there are no very important cases to be tried, mostly for retailing, we are informed. Wilkes and Stokes counties are well represented, as usual, a large delegation from Stokes arriving on the noon C. F. & Y. V. train.

We have a complete line of Hill & Green's Little Giant School Shoes, the best wearing child shoes on earth. Try a pair. Shrier sells them, 216 S Elm St.

SUNDAY'S TERRIBLE STORM.

People Rescued From Homes in Boats.

STORM RAGED NINETEEN HOURS.

Fernandina, Fla., and Brunswick, Ga., Are the Heaviest Losers—Great Loss of Life.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Savannah, Oct. 4.—Communication by courier has been established today with points in Florida which were cut off by the storm of Sunday. The reports received show great loss of life and damage to property of several million dollars.

Fernandina and Brunswick lost about a half million dollars each. Both of those cities are cut off by wire and the village of St. Mary's, Georgia, is wiped out. At Fernandina the water rose for several blocks in the city and people were rescued from their homes in boats. The roofs of nearly all buildings were blown off or damaged. Four churches were destroyed. Cargo after cargo of goods were completely blown away and the docks at the quarantine station were entirely destroyed. The employees escaped in rafts.

A large hotel and twenty cottages on Fernandina Beach were destroyed and the inhabitants floated ashore on rafts. The chief losers are Cooney, Eckstein Co., of Norfolk, Borden & Co., Fernandina, Atlantic Coast and Export Lumber Co., of Boston and Jacksonville, W. A. Evans, of Fernandina and George Baxter & Co., of New York.

All of Brunswick was inundated from four to six feet. The storm raged furiously for nineteen hours.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 4, '98.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of aldermen was held last night in the mayors office. After setting aside a few complaints other business was transacted as follows:

Resolved that the cemetery committee be instructed to instruct the keeper of the cemetery not to allow any person to bury in any of the reserved lots without they pay for same. The street committee was directed to prosecute the work on the sidewalks with greater vigor and if the owners of the property will not do the work within thirty days after notice, the street overseer be directed to have the work done in good shape and tax the owner with the cost.

The use of Ben's dirt was disapproved by the board for sidewalks as it is not fit for such purposes.

The board was instructed to request the citizens to plant trees and shrubbery in the cemetery and to beautify it in every way possible. There was some other business transacted though of no importance to the public.

The new guard house will be launched within a few days. We have not heard yet who will christen it, but it will doubtless be christened by the first person incarcerated in her toms.

We trust, however, that there will be no Bradley Richardson dispute over the christening of this structure.

Don't think because you see a fence around Jarrell's hotel office that there are any cattle inside if they do call it the Slaughter house. Fresh paint is the trouble.

Over two hundred gallons of whiskey that was seized by the revenue officer here was shipped to Greensboro yesterday.

Miss Maggie Slaughter returned last night from Virginia, where she has been visiting friends and relatives.

B. F. Huntley, of Winston, was in the city this morning on business.

Sad Case of Drowning at Philadelphia.

A GREAT BUT SILENT CROWD.

Watching The Divers as They Search For the Body of James Laundry Who Fell From a Boat.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—A great but silent crowd thronged the Cumberland street wharf today watching the divers searching for the body of James Laundry, who accidentally fell from a boat which was drawn under the wharf where the tide rose and drowned him before the rescuers could reach him.

All manner of efforts were tried to reach the unfortunate man while he called out to the party and urged them to hurry as the tide was crawling up. His father stood on the wharf and called to him to "Hold on." The divers made faithful efforts to reach him but failed to find him and the tide kept on rising and finally engulfed and drowned him.

THE NEW JUDGE.

A Swap of Offices—The New Candidate for Solicitor.

The following appointments were yesterday made and commissions for them were issued by the Governor:

William P. Bynum, Jr., of Greensboro, judge superior court for the Fifth Judicial district, vice Spencer B. Adams, resigned.

William D. Merritt, of Roxboro, solicitor of the Fifth Judicial district, vice W. P. Bynum, Jr., resigned.

These appointments also mean that there will be a corresponding change in the function ticket in the Fifth district. Merritt, who was nominated for judge, will become the candidate for solicitor and Bynum, who was nominated for solicitor, will be the candidate for judge.

This change has been in contemplation for some time. It was discussed at the meeting of the fusion conference committee more than a week ago, but nothing was done. Sunday Mr. Merritt came here to consult with Holton and Thompson and the Governor—the powers that put up and take down candidates at will. He told them that he and Mr. Bynum had agreed, provided it met with their royal highness to swap places. Holton said swap and swap they did.

Mr. Bynum arrived here on the morning train, in company with Mr. Holton. They went at once to republican headquarters at the Park Hotel. There Mr. Merritt joined them and the three proceeded to the capitol where Mr. Bynum wrote out his resignation as solicitor and the new commissions were made out.

This matter has been in contemplation for some time, but hung fire for the following reason:

It first came up on the question of appointment of a successor to Judge Adams. Adams asked the appointment of Merritt, the candidate for the place. He thought this would strengthen his own candidacy for congress, Merritt being a populist and the populists being the uncertain quantity.

The governor, however remembering that Holden once made a very big blunder in appointing him (Russell) judge at a very tender age, objected to Merritt on account of his youth and inexperience. Finally he declared he would not appoint him.

It was then that Merritt and Bynum agreed, since Merritt couldn't be appointed judge, to swap places on the ticket. The bargain was completed yesterday when they got their commissions. Mr. Bynum left on the afternoon train for Bladen county, where he begins a term of court today. Mr. Merritt went to Durham to attend his first court this week as solicitor.

William P. Bynum, Jr., the new judge, is a son of Judge W. P. Bynum. He was born August 1, 1881, in McDowell county. Four years later his parents moved to Stokes county. In 1893, young Bynum graduated from Trinity College. A year later he graduated from Dick and Dillard's law school, at Greensboro, and received his license. He was sworn in at Charlotte in February, by Judge MacRae. Immediately he began the practice of his profession in partnership with Judge Bynum, at Charlotte. Three years later he moved to Greensboro and has ever since been a resident of that place. In 1894 he was elected solicitor for the Fifth Judicial district.

The new solicitor, Mr. William D. Merritt, is 26 years old, the son of Dr. William Merritt, of Person county. He has been practicing law five years and has in that time built up a successful business.—News & Observer.

LAUNCHING THE ILLINOIS.

Crowninshield, secretary of agriculture, with his daughter; General Miles, wife and daughter, and Governor Tyler, of Virginia, also arrived today with a large party from Richmond.

The preparations were practically completed last night, but a large force of workmen were busy early this morning attending to the final details.

The ceremonies began at ten o'clock the christening party passed around the hull at ten forty and a few minutes later the Illinois slipped into the water.

A PROTEST.

If secular and rank partisan newspapers can, with any degree of respectability, speak of the church in terms that tend to drag it and its deliberations to the level of partisan politics, surely we have the right to speak a word now and then upholding the church and her institutions and her ministers.

The Clark-Kilgo matter should have ended with the investigation at Durham; but instead of that the abuse widened. Judge Clark set the pace when he "challenged the jury" and said, virtually, that the board of trustees of Trinity College were not honest enough to try the case. Six weeks previous to that time he openly expressed great faith and confidence in them!

Now where does the matter stand? With ghoulish glee such papers as the Caucasian and others of like political stripe are abusing everything in connection with Trinity College. They have madly and blindly tried to forego the verdict of the board of trustees by openly saying they were prejudiced, and therefore incapable of rendering a fair decision. And all of them men of unspotted character, unquestionable integrity, undoubted christian zeal—men upon whom not a trace of suspicion has ever rested.

Come back to the original proposition—that the awful, grasping and greedy hand of monopoly is twining its grim and grimy and bony fingers around Trinity College and making its president teach the doctrines of trusts and gold-bugism. You have tried to drag the good name of President Kilgo through the mire and filth of socialism and anarchy in order to down the institution for accepting Mr. Duke's money. Failing in that you have garbled his public utterances in a further dastardly attempt to ruin his reputation and good name in the hope that with him would fall that sacred institution, Trinity College. You have failed to explain why it is damning for Trinity to accept Duke's money and not equally as bad for other institutions to accept it.

Following the remarkable example of Judge Clark when the trial was in progress, the other opponents have practically changed bases in their determined efforts to damage and overthrow the institution. Column after column has been written; phase after phase has been discussed. Dr. Kilgo continues to be vilified and abused. An effort has been made to make it appear that Trinity College is a partner, holding shares in the American Tobacco Company and having a voice in the manipulation of its stock.

Yet, with all these things, Trinity College opens with largely increased attendance. In desperation, at last, we are beginning to be treated to anonymous letters attacking the motives of the board of trustees. They have been accused of "whitewashing" Dr. Kilgo, and aiding in suppressing testimony damaging to him. And still the scenes are shifting. Dr. Ivey has been attacked for printing the truth as he sees it, in the Christian Advocate. He has been attacked from ambush—a method employed only by cowards—and accused of attempting to "change the status of the case." In the name of all that is good and true, in the name of all that men hold most dear and sacred—their good name, how long is this vicious and shameless abuse of men of unsullied Christian character to continue?

If a spirit born of populist vagaries and socialism can enter the sacred precincts of the church of God and tear from it these men by imputing to them impure, unholy and dishonest motives, then the Christian religion has not the power and efficacy that characterized it when Braxton Craven and those who stood with him met and hurled back the terrible onslaught and fusillade that was levelled at him and Trinity College in past years.

MERRITT INTERVIEWED

While Enroute to Paris Where He Arrived Yesterday.

Marselles, Oct. 2.—General Merritt, accompanied by Majors Strother and Hale, Captain Mott and Private Secretary Howell, arrived at Marselles today from Manila. General Merritt looked rosy and cheerful, and he was smoking with apparent enjoyment a long Manila cheroot. He said: "I am going to Paris as military adviser to the Peace Commission, and can't say how long the proceedings will last."

SITUATION IN THE PHILIPPINES.
"What is the condition of affairs in the Philippines?"

"When I left the situation had decidedly improved. I don't anticipate any serious differences there with the insurgent leaders. The measures taken by our government, at the request of Admiral Dewey and myself, are ample for the purposes required."

"What opinion have you formed of Aguinaldo?"

"He seemed to me to be getting on fairly. You must remember he suddenly finds himself, after many years of struggles, in a position of unexpected influence and has naturally become inflated with the sense of his own importance. He may be difficult to deal with unless his advisers use their influence discreetly."

"Do you consider that the insurgents are fit for self-government?"

NOT READY FOR SELF-GOVERNMENT.

"I doubt it at the present time. Their leaders are very intelligent and much more fitted for self-government than the Cuban insurgent leaders. Philippine people, too, are better off than they are thought to be. I think that if they find that the Spanish Government is not to be retained they will be perfectly amenable to the Government or the Power that is going to be established. The permanent forces in the Philippines may be relied upon to support a stable government. The people are tired of disturbance and desire to set to work to develop the great resources of the islands."

"Do you consider annexation of all the islands, or Luzon only, or merely the establishment of a naval base at Manila the best policy?"

"That is a big question, and I cannot answer until I am asked it by the members of the peace commission. I don't deny it is a grave problem."

WILL REPRESENT DEWEY.

"Did you consult with Admiral Dewey about the advice to be tendered to the Peace Commissioners respecting the future of the Philippines?"

"Dewey and myself were, of course, in constant communication. I can speak for him if the Peace Commission requires me to do so."

General Merritt's reticence on Admiral Dewey's attitude was immovable and he turned the subject.
Captain Loggin, of the steamer Arcadia, said to me afterward: "General Merritt won the warm regard and admiration of everyone on board. His modesty and good humor were delightful, and he mixed with every one. The American party were, in fact, extremely popular. Major Hale enlivened the evenings with his songs."

OFF FOR PARIS.

General Merritt intended starting for Paris at 9 o'clock this morning, but owing to the delay of the ship's doctor in complying with the quarantine regulations, was prevented and leaves this evening. The General and his staff dined with Consul Skinner, meeting a few of the leading American residents here.

While waiting on the quay I asked General Merritt whether it was true that he was returning shortly to the United States to be married, and he replied: "That is a personal matter which I can say nothing."

Chicken Under His Arm.

On Sunday morning a family on Blount street noticed that some planks had been knocked off their chicken house and that two nice hens were missing. Later, when the young lady of the house went into the garden to examine a hen nest, she discovered a big negro man asleep between a row of collards. She was frightened and ran to the house to wake her father. He went after a policeman. In the meantime her brother was informed and went into the garden. When he shook the negro he opened his eyes and pretended not to know "where he was at." Asked how he came there, he gave two or three different explanations. One of the missing chickens was dead under him. He could not find his hat for a time and said that he had swapped his hat for a chicken. When his hat was found under a collard, the negro saw it was all up with him, and the policeman locked him up.—News and Observer.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin.
"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e. Theory) says is best to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Insulted the Postmistress.

The republican postmaster at Clayton recently had a taste of the insolence of the negro that his party has been and is asserting does not exist. Duncan is the name of the postmaster and his daughter, Miss Duncan, attends to the office. Horace Baucum, a negro who gets his mail at the office, came in the other day and asked if there was a letter for him. On being told by Miss Duncan that there was nothing he grew angry and seemed to consider it the fault of the postmistress that he failed to get any mail. He grumbled for awhile and finally grew so insulting that a white man who happened to be in the store where the post-office is kept could stand it no longer and kicked Baucum out of the house, following up the ejection with a good thrashing. All of which goes to show that others besides Democrats suffer from the fruits of fusion rule.—News & Observer.

One Minute Cough Cure surprises people by its quick cures and children may take it in large quantities without the least danger. It has won for itself the best reputation of any preparation used today for colds, croup, tickling in the throat or obstinate coughs. Howard Gardner.

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from yellow jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

How to Prevent Croup.

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and it always prevents an attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than of all other cough medicines combined.—J. M. Nickle, of Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville, Pa. For sale by C. E. Holton.

ARRESTED BY A NEGRO.

Tied a White Prisoner's Hands Behind Him.

On or about the 21st of September, 1898, John B. Somerville, a negro magistrate in Warren county, issued a warrant for the arrest of Peter Walker and Henry Jenkins for an assault upon one Bottoms. The warrant was placed by the negro magistrate in the hands of George Plummer, a negro constable, who deputized another negro, Mat Somerville, to assist in the arrest. They then, in company with the negro magistrate (Joe Somerville), who issued the warrant, went in search of Walker and Jenkins. They finally ran up on Walker and another man named Joe King (not Jenkins) and arrested them. The had no warrant for King, but they arrested him all the same and brought him and Walker to town. They tied Walker's hands behind him although he had offered no resistance whatever to the arrest. When they got Walker and King to town they let King go when they found out they had no right to arrest him.—News and Observer.

through this morning returning home.
Mr. Terry enlisted in the navy soon after the war with Spain broke out and was assigned to duty on the Dolphin where he served until recently when he got a discharge.

Charlie Weaver left on the vestibule last night to resume his studies at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.
Charlie says he can stand a "little absence," but he does not know how he will survive the large one which is now on. Many of his friends were at the depot to bid him good-bye.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—An evening paper says: "One of the most gigantic projects for the combination of capital in this country is being considered at this city. It is no less than an attempt to unite the warship building interests and the armor plate and gun-making interests of the world into one great syndicate, whose factories shall be located near Cleveland."

Discovered by a Woman

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes
W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.
Trial bottles free at C. E. Hol-ton's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Some miscreant tried to break into Joe Lee's laundry a few nights ago probably with the intention of adding to his wardrobe. Joe was inside however and "no tickle no washee" was the rule. Several rocks were thrown through a back window. Joe is keeping these as souvenirs but expects to return them if the visitor calls again. Joe says "I kick 'im, I keel 'im come more. Goo people do goo' town. Him stay way."

Charles Has Gone.

Mr. Charles C. Weaver left on the vestibule last night for Baltimore to enter Johns Hopkins University. Scores of young ladies gathered at the depot to see him leave, and large chunks of war-time sorrow seemed to envelop the depot and its surroundings. Charles was the centre of attraction and any other young man who was cheeky enough to try to speak to a young lady while Charles was near was ingloriously snubbed. He could excuse it, however, and wait until Charles had left, for he knew that whoever was not a true patriot. The best wishes of hundreds, yea, thousands of friends follow him, and several young ladies doubtless have the toothache in the heart on account of his departure.

JEFF EXPOSED HIS HEAD.

And His Skull Was Pecked Up By a Saw.

Jeff Donald who was hit on the head Saturday night with a saw by Will Lloyd was found yesterday afternoon and jailed. The county physician examined his wounds and found a piece of the saw about an inch long imbedded in his head. Several small pieces of bone were also taken out. Jeff suffered terribly and is hurt much worse than was at first thought.

The evidence in the trial this morning showed that when Lloyd started at Jeff with the saw the latter held up his arms to protect his head; but later, remembering that the noggin was the harder, he took his arms down. He now knows that though a negro's head is proof against a bullet it will not stand the test with a saw.

'Squire Eckle bound both parties over to court on bond of $100 in default of which they were taken back to jail.
